Thieves visited the Niantic and Wood River Junction railway stations before daylight of Saturday and their gains did not warrant the risks taken. At the Niantic station the thieves did not get a cent and the next is the court of the station was five miles away. So they emerged the barn of Joseph Wilcox and horrowed his buckskin horse and open buggy and drove to Wood River Junction. Here they gathered together as mear as can be computed, the sum of seventy cents, it was so nearly disclosed by the seventy cents. It was so nearly brown, Mrs. Susan Ha daylight and the men there were two of them, drove down the main highway for the distance of a mile and there deserted the borrowed team, where it was subsequently found and delivered to the owner.

There was music by the Hyperion orchestra, ably assisted by a cello and flute from out of town, with Victor L'Heureux, Jr., prompter. The remodeling of the hall has been in process for about three months under the direction of John Hull of Norwich, and the completed work classes favorable with any hall in this section of the state. All the partitions were taken out from the third and fourth floors, the fourth floor was totally removed, which makes the new hall 18 feet high, there being a spacious balcony extending around three sides. A new stage of ample depth with convenient dressing rooms has also been built, and in the main hall a two-inch maple floor has been laid which is pronounced to be the best possible thing for dancing. The sides and celling have been covered with sheet steel of handsome design. The sets of new scenery are an admirable part of the equipment of the new hall, while the electric lighting has been arranged to Camp Rough House at Mason Island was opened Sunday when Harry Dun-can, William McKone, Fred Branni-gan and Edward Pinkman left here gan and Edward Pinkman left here bag and baggage. Many of the boys availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting the place. Squadrito brothers furnished music and an old-time dinner was served at noon. It is one month later than the boys usually open the cottage. They are always the last to leave in the fall.

Dinner Party. Mr. and Mrs. Boone Spink enter-tained friends at their home Sunday evening at a dinner party. Guests were present from New London, Mys-tic and Noank. During the evening music was rendered.

Quarterly Conference, At the Methodist church Sunday evening the district superintendent, Rev. J. H. Newland of Norwich, was present and delivered a fine sermon. At the close of the service the first quarterly conference was held. Reports were read from the pastor, Sunday school superintendent Enwarth day school superintendent, Epworth league president, Ladles' Aid society president, and the recording steward. The church people are pleased with the return of Rev. C. Hatch for the second year, and great good is being
